

Event Invitation: "Monetizing Your IP Through the International Trade Commission"

- WHEN: Wednesday, May 10, 2017
- AGENDA: 6:00 - 8:00 pm | 6:00 - 7:00 cocktails & light dinner | 7:00 - 8:00 speaker presentation
- SPEAKER: Kecia J. Reynolds (Partner, Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP)
- WHERE: Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP
1200 Seventeenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20036 USA
(corner of 17th and M Street)
- HOST: Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP
- SPONSOR: Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP
- RSVP: Please click here to RSVP

About our guest speaker...

Kecia J. Reynolds
*Partner, Intellectual Property
Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP*

Kecia Reynolds is a partner in the law firm's Intellectual Property Litigation practice in the Washington, DC office. She has extensive trial experience with patent enforcement issues and focuses on representing clients before the International Trade Commission (ITC) and district courts. Ms. Reynolds has participated in more than 35 ITC investigations and has keen insights into ITC litigation strategy. Ms. Reynolds district court experience includes the Eastern District of Virginia, Middle District of Pennsylvania, and District of Delaware. She is also an active speaker on matters involving strategies and practice at the ITC, the domestic industry requirement at the ITC, and discovery in U.S. district courts.

About WIL DC...

The Women in Licensing (WIL) DC chapter was founded in 2015. Membership is open to life sciences-focused technology transfer/licensing, patent law, and business development professionals. Quarterly WIL DC meetings provide an opportunity for networking and for discussing topics of interest, including practical advice for technology transfer/licensing managers and updates on important legal changes in intellectual property protection. Please contact Claire Driscoll (cdriscoll@mail.nih.gov) or Shelley Jones (shelley.jones@leclairryan.com) if you are interested in joining the WIL DC chapter.